

A. A. R. TO FAVOR GAS TAX DEAL

Officials Talk to Commissioners About Maryland Offer—Reciprocity Plan Appeals.

Official of the American Automobile Association today conferred with the District Commissioners on the plan proposed by the Maryland State officials to put a tax on gasoline. It is understood that they expressed themselves in favor of any agreement between the District and Maryland which would result in complete reciprocity, but they believed that the present plan was too indefinite to warrant any decided step by the District officials.

Favor Gasoline Tax.

The officials expressed themselves as being against any additional tax on automobiles, but said that they would favor a gasoline tax in lieu of a horsepower tax, if Maryland would agree to grant complete reciprocity to District motorists.

William Ullman, secretary of the Washington Branch, A. A. R., told the Commissioners the motorists' side of the reciprocity question and Commissioner Rudolph told him that he was not in favor of putting an extra tax on motorists if it could be avoided.

A CODE MYSTERY.

Here is a message, writes EDWIN F. ROWLES, written in a code said to have been used by the Confederate forces in the civil war, and it is supposed to have passed on to the Ku Klux Klan:

ALFN
LOVL UNALZ
EORVNO EVZ
JNLC LOZ
JNLC LOZ

Automobile License Clerk Experiences Last Minute Rush

The office of the automobile license clerk was a busy place today when Washington motorists who waited until the last minute flocked into the district building to obtain their 1922 tags. Every available clerk in the building was familiar with the issuing of motor tags was increased in order to accommodate the mass throng.

Up to the close of business yesterday 35,500 tags had been issued, according to Wade H. Coombs, superintendent of licenses, and he expected that today's business will increase this number by 3,500. The revenue collected from this source so far has been about $143,000, it was estimated. On January 1 last, about 150 persons were arrested for not having their new tags on automobiles while driving through the city.

LASKER SUMMONED IN WOODEN SHIP SUIT

Chairman Albert D. Lasker, of the United States Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation, was ordered today by Justice Bailey in Circuit Court to show cause on January 8 next why he should not execute a contract with the Ship Construction and Trading Company, of New York, for the sale of 235 wooden ships now lying idle in Hampton Roads.

The ship firm claims to have sent in a formal announcement to the board of directors and alleges that it was the only bidder for the vessels. It is alleged that the bid was accepted by the Shipping Board, but Mr. Lasker, it is claimed, refused to execute a contract of sale.

DR. RUSSELL CONWELL TO DELIVER FAMOUS LECTURE

Dr. Russell Conwell will give his world famous address, "Acres of Diamonds," at the First Congregational Church, Tenth and G streets northwest, Monday evening, January 9. Tickets may be obtained through J. J. Connelley, 2012 First street northwest.

With the proceeds from this single lecture, already delivered by Dr. Conwell more than 6,000 times, the lecturer has established a Temperance College, where more than 3,000 students are annually aided in pursuing college courses.

BULK OF MOUDY ESTATE GOES TO THREE CHILDREN

John L. Moudy, whose will, dated March 14, 1919, was filed today for probate, leaves $50 to his son, William Charles Moudy, and a similar amount to his daughter, Mercie Pauline Moudy. The rest of the estate is to be divided into three equal parts between his son, Samuel Martin Moudy; his daughter, Stella F. Shreve, and Lillie May Middleton, another daughter, who is also named in the will. Testator died October 25 last.

Mrs. Emma Bowling was named sole beneficiary under the will of her husband, E. B. Bowling, died November 2 last. Testator dated December 19 last.

U. S. ASKS WHO OWNS AUSTRIAN PRE-WAR BONDS

At the request of the Allied Reparations Commission, the State Department today undertook to ascertain the amount of bonds held by American investors in the pre-war, unsecured national debt of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire.

A formal announcement was made by the department that it is ready to receive these bonds from American investors. It was emphasized that the announcement does not apply to war loan bonds, municipal bonds or private industrial securities, but solely to the old pre-war, unsecured debt.

BEARD AND SEEN

By BILL PRICE

CLASSY NEWS ITEMS.

From the esteemed Baltimore Sun, household journal extraordinary, we note interesting news happenings in the provinces:

J. C. GILMORE, of Bluefield, W. Va., at seventy-nine years of age, is cutting his teeth on a new crop of teeth. Every time his teeth bother him he has them pulled, and the new crop appears shortly afterward.

It is quite evident that Mr. Gilmore is not a friend of the manufacturers of false teeth or of the dental fraternity.

Miss KICE WILLIAMS, a Birmingham, Ala., school teacher, had all arrangements completed for her wedding to NEAL JAY, a North Carolina contractor, who had asked Rev. J. C. DRAPEL, Methodist minister, to marry them. The church was decorated for the last minute, the bride and groom were married, and the bride and groom were married.

It may be a coincidence, but we note that Miss Williams' first name is "KICE" and the gentleman she gave the kic to was Mr. JAY.

One of our own contributors from Shadyville, Ind., advises that Miss MAHINDA KFORWORTH's old speckled hen has laid an egg, and she is with the figures "3025" thereon. The community is greatly excited and fears that the world is coming to an end 100 years from now.

From Gum Creek correspondence of a Virginia weekly paper:

"Uncle TOM PEPPER shined his shoes last Sunday for the first time in two years, and he was in the direction of Widow Scroggins' home."

A stranger got off the train at our neighboring town of Coon Creek, went up to the town drug store, and asked for whiskey.

"We're only allowed to sell spirits for medicinal purposes," said the druggist.

"That's what I want it for," the stranger insisted, "this town gives me a pain." HENRIETTA C.

When engaged in conversation with a portly female, you'll be careful and not venture on information such as "a bag of flour weighs 500 pounds" or "15x30 equals 300." FRED VETTER.

A RACE TRACK LAMENT.

Sing a song of six-pence, A pocket full of dough, Seven thrilling races, Run in a row.

After all are over We haven't got a cent. Wouldn't it have been better Had we not have went?

Be careful, all you "suckers," Quit being such "gobs," Don't bet your dollars—save 'em, And make the bookies get jobs.

Does the man who runs the "Green Sheet" Depend on his "best bet" To run to form and win for him So his flat won't be "red hot"? WEST FALLS CHURCH.

THE LONGEST WORDS.

Are there longer words than extraterrestrialists, or antitransubstantiationists? DUKE WAGNER.

TYPING GRAPHS.

Do you recognize this insect? He's a universal pest. He's seen in many households And he eats of the very best. DRAWING BY HOBART REESE.

"Why do women skip so many birthdays?" asked a smart male guest of his hostess.

"Because husbands forget them," replied the lady sweetly. OIDONO.

Kisses, they say, are intoxicating, but— Little drops of water and a little rye Make a darn good high-ball When a fellow is dry. RUFUS.

ICOLORLED BANDIT MAKES MISTAKE ABOUT CHINESE

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—A pistol battle between a colored bandit and a Chinese laundryman resulted in victory for the Celestial here last night.

Frank Lee, the laundryman, was busy ironing collars at his establishment in the East End when the negro with a mask covering the upper part of his face entered and covered Lee with a pistol. The Chinese looked up, calmly laid aside his iron, walked into another room, secured a pistol, and then the fight opened.

Lee fired first, but missed, and the negro fired at the back of the shop. Finally Lee vaulted the counter, firing as he came. This was too much for the would-be robber, who fled.

TINNER'S YOUTHFUL HELPER DISAPPEARS FROM HOME

Police of the Fourth precinct have been asked to locate Frank T. Newton, twenty-year-old tinner's helper, who left his home, 26 G street southeast, at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, and has not been seen since.

Young Newton, according to his sister, Mrs. H. W. Nichols, with whom he had been living, was attired in army shirt, trousers, and wrapped leggings, with a gray cap and navy peacoat. Mrs. Nichols fears her brother has suffered an accident.

FULLY MOTORIZED FIRE SERVICE EXPECTED SOON

If Congress grants the appropriation asked by the Fire Department for motor apparatus, Washington will have a completely motorized fire department, shortly after June 1 next. This was the announcement made today by officials of the District government.

Motor apparatus for three companies was received here yesterday, and will be immediately put into service. This makes only three companies now using the old horse drawn fire-engines.

Captain Davis Goes East.

Capt. Chester A. Davis, United States infantry, has been relieved from his duties in Washington, and will sail from Philadelphia on January 3 on the naval transport Argonne for the Philippines. Upon his arrival at Manila, Captain Davis will report for duty at the University of the Philippines.

Major Greene on Duty Here.

Major Winthrop Stephenson Greene, infantry officers' reserve corps, today was ordered to active duty. He will proceed to the office of chief of staff, Washington, in assignment to the operations and training division.

MOTHERS SAID CONGRESS SHOULD APPOINT HEADS

Nineteen Women From Ten National Organizations Answer to Roll.

Mrs. Florence Kelley, of New York, general secretary of the National Consumers' League, and Mrs. William Tilton of Boston, legislative chairman of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Associations, are in Washington today to attend the regular monthly meeting of the women's joint Congressional committee, held at 10:30 this morning at the national office of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Association, 1201 Sixteenth street northwest.

Nineteen women representing ten national organizations were present. Mrs. Maud Wood Park, who was re-elected president at the annual meeting, presided.

Appointments to two standing committees were announced as follows: Committee on Admissions—Mrs. Florence Kelley, chairman; Mrs. Kate Trevelin Abrams, representing the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Alexander Wolf, representing the National Council of Jewish Women.

Publicity Committee—Mrs. Edward P. Costigan, chairman; Mrs. Samuel MacClintock, representing the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association, and Mrs. Raymond Morgan, representing the American Association of University Women.

Reports of legislative work were made by the chairmen of the respective subcommittees.

The women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

After the meeting, the women's joint Congressional committee accepted the invitation of Dr. Valeria Parker, executive secretary of the interdepartmental social hygiene board, to visit the offices of the board and to inspect the work being done this year. This work was made possible through the efforts of several of the national women's organizations represented on the joint Congressional committee in securing the continuance of the board.

GERMAN GENERAL WILL ENTER BUSINESS HERE

Attack Lessee's Charge of $60,000 a Year as Salary for Running Apartments.

Declaring that tenants of the Hadleigh Apartment Hotel were less interested in rental reduction than in obtaining better service, W. V. Boyle, E. R. Boyle and J. C. Robertson, owners, today charged that Miss Mina C. Fritz, proprietress, who has complained of the annual rental she must pay the owners, had in statements rendered attempted to charge $60,000 a year as her personal salary.

Miss Fritz, who has submitted to the rent commission that $215,000 annual rental, in addition to $25,000 for taxes and insurance, is exorbitant, says she thinks $60,000 a year reasonable recompense for managing the apartment.

Because the lessee is not renting the property by yearly lease for personal occupancy but for business purposes to make a profit, the owners do not believe the controversy is one to be settled by the rent commission. The owners claim they do not feel the present lessee has performed the particular requirements of the lease which provides for management to meet demands of high-class tenants, for whom the apartment was purposely built. The owners characterized the proceedings brought by Miss Fritz as "unwarranted," and said they "would meet the situation."

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.

Gen. and Mrs. Hans von Buelow, who have arrived in Washington. The general, one of the ex-Kaiser's famous military leaders, who commanded an army corps in France during the world war, will enter business here and later become an American citizen. His wife was formerly Miss Brice, a noted South Carolina beauty.